Given quad tree node,

- compute the column wavelet transform

- compute the row transform on matrix one and matrix two.

- compute the energy for each segment

  - If the energy limit (epsilon) or size limit has been reached, then stop procedure must be initiated.

  - Otherwise, the computation is continued for the 4 sub-components produced by the current wavelet transform.